Witzenmann invests in Pforzheim

With the traditional groundbreaking ceremony, the Witzenmann Group's managers gave the official go-ahead for the construction of the new plant in Pforzheim.

The modern production facility is located in the Buchbusch industrial estate in the north of the city, with good transport connections.

On the 20,000 m² site, a 7,300 m² building complex consisting of production and associated administration will be built. The new location will be used for the production of flexible components for the Commercial Vehicles and Engines Division of Witzenmann.

Completion and occupation of the new building are planned for summer 2018
